About the American Institute of Musicology

Founded by Armen Carapetyan in 1946, AIM supports interest in Medieval, Renaissance, and Baroque music. The publications of the Institute are used by scholars and performers alike and constitute a major core collection of early music and theoretical writings on music. Since its founding, the Institute has published more than 800 separate scholarly volumes including the yearbook Musica Disciplina.

The publications of the Institute are wide-ranging and comprise scholarly editions, books, and treatises. The scholarly editions include the complete works or collected works of major composers such as Machaut, La Rue, Dufay, Willaert, Clemens, Rore, Compère, Crecquillon, Romero, and others. (See CMM for sacred and secular music and CEKM for keyboard music.) Significant research findings resulting from the edition-making efforts are published in the series MSD. Published treatises include the works of influential writers from Guido of Arezzo to Jean Philippe Rameau. (See CSM and MISC.) MISC accepts essay collections that make a significant contribution to the field. Reference works are published in the series RMS. New book and edition proposals continue to be accepted and published.

The Hänssler-Verlag, Neuhausen-Stuttgart, Germany, assumed responsibility for the publication program of the American Institute of Musicology in 1976, and in July 2002, the Institute's assets were acquired by Paul L. Ranzini. 2009 saw the creation of a separate company, AIM, Verlag Corpusmusicae, GmbH in Germany, where the editorial offices are now located. The publications of the Institute are now distributed through an arrangement with the Chicago Distribution Center, although customers in the EU can benefit from the limited stock that is available in Münster. Many new and exciting projects are in the works, and the AIM tradition continues.

What are AIM Editions?

The editions of the AIM are the standard reference editions for Western European art music from the beginnings of musical notation through the early Baroque era. They are prepared by an international group of scholars according to clearly-defined editorial principles that strive to present the most authentic and reliable musical texts. They represent the highest level of scholarship, using the most current resources, to present the works of these composers, authors, and theorists in their best light. Updates to editions, when they become available, are posted online at <http://www.corpusmusicae.com>.

Copyright Sharing Policy

The purchase of an edition of music does not automatically convey the right to perform, record, or otherwise replicate a work from the edition. To help subscribers clear these rights, the AIM has established a Copyright Sharing Policy.

Copyright Sharing is a special benefit available only to customers with standing orders that originate directly with the AIM. This policy allows the subscriber to support faculty and student performances and scholarly use of the editions.

Under this Copyright Sharing Policy, the AIM will grant, upon direct request, to any patron of a library or any private subscriber with a direct standing order, permission to reproduce material for study or performance from any AIM publication under active subscription.

To take advantage of the Copyright Sharing Policy, you must request permission in writing from AIM. Faculty members, students, and library patrons are invited to participate. Further information on the Copyright Sharing Policy may be found on the AIM website (<https://www.corpusmusicae.com>). Please feel free to contact us with any questions regarding the policy or any other permission matters. Please note that this policy applies to customers with a direct standing order, and it does not extend to music purchased through a third party, such as a bookstore or distributor.

Standing Orders 20% Off

A standing subscription is the best way to make sure that you get all of the volumes in a series in a timely manner. All direct subscriptions serviced by the Chicago Distribution Center will be billed at a 20% discount from the list price as a small “Thank you” for the support of our subscribers. This new policy only applies to subscriptions held by libraries, archives, and individuals, but not to those customers serviced by resellers or third-party vendors.

Standing orders begin with the first available volume in a series, unless a subscriber requests that it begin with a particular volume. Editions shipped on a standing order are non-returnable. Standing orders may be cancelled at any time prior to the shipment of the next release.

Orders from individuals are always welcome. Use the order form on the website, or contact AIM directly by mail, phone, fax, or through the website <http://www.corpusmusicae.com>.

In the US, orders are taken by our partner, CDC in Chicago (orders@press.uchicago.edu)

In the EU, individuals may pay by bank transfer and PayPal. Credit card orders can be accommodated through a money request sent through PayPal. If you have any questions, please contact the AIM.

Revised editions are gradually being released for some AIM volumes. These revised editions will not normally be sent to subscribers unless the revision represents a substantial rethinking of the original.

How to Use this Catalog

This catalog contains a listing of all of the issued volumes in each series (including planned volumes where the numbering of the series is interrupted), and a name index for composers and authors, whether the volume is still in print or currently only available as an offprint.

More detailed descriptions of each volume, including a more complete description and a list of contents, as well as sample pages and volume updates are continually being added to the website <http://www.corpusmusicae.com>. If you need more detail about a particular volume, please contact AIM directly.

References to volumes in each series use the following abbreviations: Musica Disciplina (MD); Corpus Mensurabilis Musicae (CMM); Corpus of Early Keyboard Music (CEKM); Renaissance Manuscript Studies (RMS); Musicological Studies and Documents (MSD);

Corpus Scriptorum de Musica (CSM); and Miscellanea (MISC). Newer volumes generally have higher numbers, but volumes completing earlier established sub-series are also continually being added to the AIM publication list. When ordering, please give the ISBN number as well as the series abbreviation followed by the volume number and part number if present, e.g. CMM 21–4, CEKM 7, MSD 53, RMS 1–3, CMS 40, or MISC 4. Volume numbers with a number followed by a letter indicate the availability of an earlier edition or a derivative edition (e.g. CMM 5a–1). ISBN numbers may be particularly useful in distinguishing between similar volumes. Prices are subject to change.

Offprint Editions: POD

Several CMM and CEKM editions have now exhausted their original print runs. While the AIM is committed to maintaining an “in-print” status for all of its publications, the process of revising or reprinting individual volumes will take time. In an effort to support libraries and archives in completing their collections on a temporary basis, all out of stock editions are now available to current subscribers in unbound, double-sided photocopies on acid-free stock, sized to fit on standard letter-size (A4) paper. These copies will be provided at a nominal cost. These temporary editions are listed with catalog numbers that include “POD.”

If you represent a library or archive with a current series subscription, and you would like to take advantage of this offer, please contact us at info@corpusmusicae.com for details.
